

Mahmud Hawila

BARRISTER-AT-LAW

T (02) 5000 0005

E mahmud@barristerhawila.com

Black Chambers

Wallamulla, Gadigal Country
204, 185 Elizabeth Street
Sydney NSW 2000

Clerk

T (02) 8590 5182

M 0408 418 177

F (02) 8572 8222

E clerk@blackchambers.com.au

Areas of Practice

- Civil and human rights
- Common law – Intentional torts
- Coronial
- Criminal law
- Inquests and commissions of inquiry
- Prosecutions
- Public administrative law
- Regulatory and compliance law
- Work health and safety

Experience

Mahmud appears and advises in a broad range of criminal, regulatory and public law matters, drawing upon his experience as a NSW Police Prosecutor, Police Officer and career government lawyer. Mahmud has conducted prosecutions on behalf of the NSW Police Force, Transport for NSW, Revenue NSW, Point to Point Transport Commissioner, Department of Education, Liquor & Gaming NSW, Department of Planning, Industry and Environment, local councils and various other regulatory agencies.

Mahmud accepts both Defence and Prosecution briefs to appear in all New South Wales Courts and Tribunals, including in regional and remote locations. Mahmud is on most Legal Aid NSW Panels, the Commonwealth DPP Briefing Panel, and holds an ongoing Commonwealth Counsel Rate.

Prior to coming to the Bar, Mahmud practised in the Litigation and Dispute Resolution team at Hunt & Hunt Lawyers. Mahmud regularly advised and acted on behalf of government agencies in regulatory prosecutions, appeals, administrative reviews, commissions of inquiry and coronial inquests.

Earlier in his career, Mahmud served in the NSW Police Force as a General Duties Police Officer, and later a Police Prosecutor. During his time in General Duties, Mahmud conducted numerous criminal investigations, and provided legal advice to investigators on the exercise of legislative powers and the sufficiency of briefs of evidence. Mahmud has extensive advocacy experience in conducting defended criminal hearings, sentencing proceedings, and applications relating to bail, Apprehended Violence Orders, forensic procedures, mental health, and confiscation of proceeds of crime.

In 2019, Mahmud was seconded from private practice to Transport for NSW (formerly Roads and Maritime Services) as Senior Legal Counsel. In this capacity, Mahmud advised lawmakers, industry stakeholders and investigators while managing the Department's prosecutions and appeals. Mahmud also worked to dissolve Roads and Maritime Services and integrate it into Transport for NSW

Professional admissions

2020	Barrister (New South Wales)
2015	Solicitor (New South Wales)

Professional experience

2020	Barrister, NSW Bar
2019 – 2020	Lawyer, Hunt & Hunt Lawyers
2019 – 2019	Senior Legal Counsel, Transport for NSW
2016 – 2019	Accelerated Police Prosecutor Program, New South Wales Police Force, including: 2016-2017 Residential training, NSW Police Academy 2017-2018 General Duties Policing, Rosehill Local Area Command and Cumberland Police Area Command 2018-2019 Police Prosecutor, Police Prosecutions Command
2015 – 2016	Solicitor, Birchgrove Legal

Academic experience

2021	Lecturer (Criminal Law, and The Legal Profession) The University of Sydney Law School
2018 – 2020	Guest Lecturer International Centre for Ocean Governance, School of Law, Western Sydney University

Professional qualifications

2020	Bachelor of Criminal Justice (First Class Honours)	Charles Sturt University
2018	Associate Degree in Policing Practice (with Distinction)	Charles Sturt University
2017	Certificate IV in Government Investigations (Regulatory)	Australian Centre for Investigation, Incident & Management Solutions
2015	Bachelor of Laws	University of Technology, Sydney